WELCOME

with Tony Williams (Chairman)

G CROESO I BAWB I CAE
BRAGDY TRYDAN Y
PRYNHAWN YMA. A WARM WELCOME TO YOU ALL TO THE ELECTRIC BREWERY FIELD THIS AFTERNOON FOR OUR GAME
AGAINST ONE OF OUR GWENT
RIVALS BUT FRIENDS PONTYPOOL,
WHO PLAY FOR THE SECOND TIME
THIS SEASON.

Pontypool have had a mixed start to their season, after a big recruitment drive this summer, and are sitting a few places below us in the table having amassed two wins from the five fixtures so far. The Ravens also have two wins to our credit in addition to the draw against Swansea which sees us in a respectable fifth place.

After an indifferent start this season, Bridgend again turned on the gas and played some scintillating second half rugby, running in some wonderful tries and earning a well-deserved win last week against Aberavon. This was similar to the display against Swansea, and it goes to show what we are capable of on the day.

Fingers crossed, we will have the same again on the field today, but for a full 80 minutes - and along with Pontypool we will have an enjoyable rugby fixture just like the one at Pontypool Park earlier this season.

Today, we see the end of a run of four home games on the bounce and in comparison to last season we have seen more of the potential that this squad has, with players fighting for the jersey. This has also been helped by some good crowds and naturally it would be remiss of me not to thank all of you for your continued support, not only for the past four games but also to those of you who have travelled to the two away games as well. With our next two games away after today, I hope to see many more of you on our travels.

Now to some off field news, since taking over the bars some 18 months ago, Janine and her team having been working hard to put a stamp on the local community. Since the addition of the new stairlift, we have seen functions increase significantly with the venue now hosting weddings, funerals, special occasions as well as business events.

This was shown recently at the Aberavon game where the Bridgend Business Forum were our guests in the best attended event they have had for a long time. Please continue to spread the word that the Rugby Club is more than just a place to watch rugby with the team having the ability to cater for a number of different events

So, for now... Come on, the Bridge!

Hwyl.

Cheers

SCOTT'S NOTES

with Scott Baldwin (Director of Rugby)

GOOD AFTERNOON AND WELCOME BACK TO THE ELECTRIC BREWERY FIELD FOR OUR LATEST SUPER RYGBI CYMRU FIXTURE AGAINST PONTYPOOL.

Going into the game last Thursday, we'd spoken about being brave and backing ourselves. What's given us the ability to do that in the first four games is our ability to apply pressure from a set-piece perspective, specifically the scrum. That didn't come to fruition on Thursday. We gave penalties away for multiple reasons at scrum time, which is something we haven't done this season. So there needed to be an adjustment in how we approached the second half compared to the first.

In the first half, we gave them pretty soft entries, in all honesty, around discipline at the scrum, and gave them more opportunities nearer our line. We've been really good this season outside of the games against Aberavon, so that's an area we need to knuckle down on this week, because it's been a strength of ours. If I was Pontypool, I'd be watching that and saying that's an area we can go after.

Ben Burnell making the decision to go for the crossfield kick is one of those risk-reward moments. I've got no issue with Ben being brave and backing himself, but it's about understanding the context of the game. We had just got back into the game, but that confidence is what I want and need. What we spoke about at half time was how we adapt: getting the ball to the edge, then kicking as the last option, as opposed to kicking one pass earlier. That gives us the ability to get our wingers chasing kicks, put pressure on Aberavon, and not overplay in our own half.

We spoke about the first six or seven minutes, and the plan was that we'd be kicking early so we didn't get bogged down in that area, and we'd get a bit of return. We went away from that for the next thirty minutes, probably trying to force it a little too much. But in the second half, we played in the right areas of the pitch. We went back to our DNA in terms of our maul, which created opportunities for us. We then did what we spoke about at half time, kicking off our second receiver's hands, which created the opportunity for Ed to score. That was a big factor for us.

We talk about big players having big games, and I think Ryan Wilkins, on our exit scrum, with his ability to break the line and get us up the pitch, was a huge moment and a turning point. The substitutes from the bench lifted the energy, including an exceptional effort from Morgan Boobyer to keep up with Ryan Wilkins in that breakaway play. That's what caused the yellow card, which kept the pressure on Aberavon and gave us the ability to build momentum. I thought we did that really well. Again, outside of the discipline and the scrum penalties, I thought we were really comfortable defensively.

The aerial game is something we're constantly working on. It's a massive part of the game at any level, probably more so at the moment, as teams will go after it against us. That's the reason we went with three fullbacks against Aberavon, just to give us a bit more control under those high balls.

I thought Gabe Lacy did really well and was a massive part of that game under pressure. Aberavon's wingers probably don't get the credit they deserve for how good they are on the chase. They win a lot of the scraps and a lot of the aerial battles.

My overriding emotion after that game was extreme pride in the togetherness of this group. I think that showed. Last season, we'd have lost those types of games. So, to see how connected the group is, and how they perform in tough conditions, let's not underestimate it. Being 19-5 down at half time, that was a big turnaround, given the conditions we were playing into. But the belief, and the moment we scored off, was about being brave and backing ourselves, and that was evident in the last try from Cam Ellis in the corner, going edge to edge and creating the opportunity ourselves. I think those of you who could hear the changing rooms after the game will know it was a great place to be.

Thanks for your support again - today is going to be another tough challenge, but one that we're excited for.

A closer look at today's opponents with Matthew Williams

ONES TO WATCH

SCOTT MATTHEWS

Back Row (Captain)

Matthews made the move to Pontypool in 2018, joining from Cross Keys. During his time at Keys, he was named Premiership Player of the Year in 2015 and earned the honour of becoming club captain at just 22 years of age.

The back-rower began his career with the Dragons, making six appearances for the region. He made his debut against the Scarlets in 2013, with his only try for the region coming against Exeter Chiefs

Now 32, Matthews is closing in on 150 appearances for Pontypool and has captained the side over the past few seasons. The former Wales Under-20s international was also among the try-scorers when the two sides met earlier this season, as the Ravens came out on top.

EVAN LLOYD

Outside Half

One of the standout moves of the summer saw Lloyd switch from Ebbw Vale to Gwent rivals Pontypool. The fly-half has established himself as one of the league's most consistent performers in recent years and will be eager to continue that form in his new colours.

Lloyd began his career with the Dragons, making his regional debut against Edinburgh during the 2020–21 season. Renowned for his points-scoring ability, he has regularly featured among the league's leading scorers.

He made an immediate impact in the meeting between the two sides earlier this campaign, registering 13 points, including his first try in Pontypool colours.

CARRICK MCDONOUGH
Back Three

McDonough began his career in the Dragons academy system, primarily featuring for Ebbw Vale before making his move to the club permanent following his departure from the region.

During his time with the Dragons, he also turned out for Bridgend, making a try-scoring debut against Newport. Since joining Pontypool in 2025, the back-three player has made 25 appearances, scoring eight tries, including three in his last two games.

McDonough also brings valuable international experience to the side, having represented Wales at Under-20s level and spent time on the sevens circuit.

AROUND THE GROUNDS

We take a look around the grounds in our SRC round up

Cardiff remained the only unbeaten team in Super Rygbi Cymru after Round 5, after a 35-12 victory over Carmarthen Quins at Cardiff Arms Park.

Hooker Tom Howe, scrum half Sion Davies, wings Dewi Cross and Iwan Prys-Jones and full back Ben Coomer the try scorers, with Lloyd Lucas kicking four conversions, and Coomer one as they made it five SRC wins from five.

Elsewhere, Newport fell to a first SRC defeat of the season thanks to a 65 - 28 at RGC. Former Ospreys wing Ieuan Cornelius the hero with two tries, while Osian Burt, Dafydd Thirsk, Sam Williams, captain Danny Cross, Sam Jones and Niall Powell also touched down.

Ebbw Vale pipped Swansea, who once again let a lead slip, this time at St Helen's at the ground's first game on the new 4G pitch. Matt Protheroe on his return to the squad scored a brace, while captain Josh Phillips and Matthew Aubrey also crossed. Former Raven Cai Evans was the hero for the Steelmen with a penalty in the last minute to break Swansea's hearts.

Llandovery kept up the pressure on the top four with a 31 v 15 win against Pontypool. Isaac Murray-Macgregor crossed twice while there were tries for Ben Evans and Tom Hughes.

with Cameron Ellis

“CAM HAS BEEN EXCELLENT FOR BRIDGEND THIS SEASON. HE IS EXCELLENT IN THE AIR; MORE OFTEN THAN NOT, HE NOT ONLY MAKES HIS TACKLES BUT ALSO DOMINATES THE CONTACT AREA. HE NEVER DIPS BELOW A 7 OUT OF 10 IN A GAME, WHICH SHOWS HE CAN BE RELIED UPON EVERY TIME HE PLAYS. HE IS A VERY BRAVE PLAYER.”

That was Performance Analyst Simon Norris view on Cameron Ellis. A reliable presence for Bridgend Ravens, who have lit up the Brewery Field this season. The winger has a fitting story; let's dive into it.

PLAYING FOR BRIDGEND
MEANS A LOT TO ME.
WITH MY FAMILY BEING
FROM THE AREA.”

FOUNDATIONS

“Rugby has always meant more to me than just a sport; it’s a big part of who I am. From the moment I started, it built a strong foundation for me both physically and mentally, shaping my discipline, resilience, and mindset.”

“It’s also given me the chance to meet great people and experience places I never would have otherwise. Along the way, it’s played an important role in personal growth, quietly highlighting how important it is to look after not just your body, but your mind as well.”

Our whole lives are spent trying to find where we belong. Ellis has found that rugby has become an outlet for him to be his best self. He has carried the game’s values wherever he’s gone. Every story has to start somewhere, and for the winger, it was the pitches of Beddau.

BEDDAU

There is something about one’s first rugby club: the first steps in the game are taken, and lifelong bonds are formed. For Ellis, that was at Beddau, working his way up through the junior ranks to represent the senior side.

Big moments have defined his journey, from a brace in a famous 34–21 cup upset over the Ravens in 2019 to playing a key role in Beddau’s thrilling 33–29 win against Bargoed at the start of 2026. He rises when it matters most. He will forever be linked with that famous green and gold jersey. Speaking to him, you can tell Beddau means a lot to him.

“Beddau is incredibly special to me; it’s where it all began and where I learned the fundamentals of the game. I spent a big part of my life there, and it was a real privilege to represent the village, especially at a senior level. From the players and coaches to the supporters, everyone was always welcoming and supportive. It’s a club I’m proud to have been part of.”

After representing them, an opportunity arose, a chance to play at the iconic Brewery Field.

BRIDGEND RAVENS

Ellis has made quite an impact since joining Bridgend. No stranger to scoring tries, if you give him an inch, he will take a mile. He put in some fantastic displays throughout the season, including the contest against Carmarthen Quins, in which he went over for a magical try. Bridgend is a historic team in the Welsh game, and Ellis talks about what it means to play for the side.

“Playing for Bridgend means a lot to me. With my family being from the area, representing the Ravens feels like I’m making them proud every time I step on the pitch. It also means representing a strong rugby community and upholding the club’s standards. The players, coaches, and staff always have your back, especially during the tougher moments, and that support makes it even more special to be part of.”

The winger talks about the lessons he has learnt since becoming a Raven.

“The biggest lesson I’ve learned since joining the Ravens is how to handle pressure. Stepping up to a higher standard, I put a lot of pressure on myself to perform, and at times that took away from my natural game. Over time, I’ve learned the importance of trusting what I’m good at: playing with confidence, being decisive, and enjoying it. When I stay out of my own head, I perform much better, and that’s been a big part of my development both on and off the pitch.”

A player who consistently makes an impact, it will be fascinating to see what the future holds for him, but it all comes back to enjoying the game.

“My ambition is to play at the highest level I possibly can and keep pushing my standards every season. I’d love the opportunity to play abroad at some point, as I think it would challenge me and help me grow both on and off the pitch. For me, it’s about continuing to improve, taking opportunities when they come, and making the most of my career while enjoying the game.”

From the valleys to the cities, there is a certain weight that comes with wearing a rugby jersey. Not just a team, but a community, giving it all on a Saturday afternoon. Ellis plays with heart and purpose, the kind of player who empties the tank and leaves every ounce out on the field.

That is what defines him.
